- Introductions
- Discussion of Malicious Pirates in China --- Spiritas Cho of Reuters in London discusses the company's research and findings on two entities pirating data in China.
- We have discussed the creation of a database of 'cease and desist' letters or at least development of a generic one that members could use as a resource. Is there an opportunity here? What about sharing the intellectual property language from contracts?
- Education
 - Discussion about who our target audience(s) is/are --- more sophisticated and technologically adept than the software piracy audience
 - How do we get at them?
 - Discussion of print media opportunities to provide targeted audiences with information on data usage policies:
 - Inside Market Data article
 - UPGRADE magazine (SIIA)
 - Update of SIIA content manager courses
- Other Business
