

Through a collaborative effort that includes the Software and Information Industry Association, Association of American Publishers, National Association of College Stores, the Association of American University Presses and the Copyright Clearance Center, the seventh edition of Questions & Answers on Copyright for the Campus Community is now available. This edition is the first update since 2003 and includes new information to help teachers, students, college stores, and other campus constituencies conform to the US Copyright Law. It covers topics such as e-reserves, course materials, obtaining permissions, networking software and compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. To order copies of the booklet, contact the NACS Product Center at (800) 622-7498, ext. 3, or go online to the NACS Product Center at www.nacs.org/nacs_store and type "Questions & Answers" in the search bar.
