Panel: Between a Rock and a Hard Place: Managing FISD Member Conflicts With FISD's diverse membership and the dynamism of the financial information industry, it is no surprise that there are frequent conflicts and controversies among FISD members. As the neutral forum for the financial information industry, what is FISD's role in these situations? How can FISD be fair to all of its members while not shying away from tackling thorny issues? In this session, FISD's member leadership will discuss the recently published "FISD Principles of Member Engagement" and how FISD can best help its members engage with one another when conflicts arise.
