

SLIA's Innovation Incubator program identifies and supports entrepreneurs in their development and distribution of innovative learning technologies. The program began in 2006 and has provided support and mentoring for dozens of successful products and companies in their efforts to improve education through the use of software, digital content and related technologies.

{youtube}MqT8WQDG6wU{/youtube}