

Welcome to the Specialized Information Publishers Association. SIPA exists to help you create better content and sell more of it to existing and prospective subscribers.

As a member, you'll profit from the opportunity to network, share with, and learn from leaders in all areas of publishing – management, marketing, editorial and content creation, data processing, list selection, fulfillment, printing, legal and government affairs, IT, Web and mobile design, online content and marketing, social networking and more.

SIPAlert Daily: Get Industry Insights Straight to Your Inbox

You'll get industry insight direct to your e-mail inbox every day from SIPAlert Daily, the only e-zine specifically created to meet the needs of specialized information publishers and paid content providers. Profit from practical advice and guidance you can put to use in your own organization, discover the latest insights of industry thought leaders, and keep pace with industry news and developments that get to the heart of your everyday business. Along with the Monday Member Profiles, SIPAlert Daily is required reading for specialized content providers who expect their companies to excel. Learn more and subscribe .